There is a Frank Sinatra song that seems appropriate for the ending of this Lodge year; "And now the end is near, and I did it my way." Every Exalted Ruler comes into office and tries to make a difference by setting some personal goals that will make his Lodge stand out from the other Lodges. When I went to Portland for the National Convention, my fellow conventioners got me all pumped up to come back to my Lodge and make a difference. But, as many ER's have found, it is not that easy. The best thing I found to do was, set my goals, and stand up for what I believe was best for my Lodge and Elksdom. My goal of 100 new members was probably high, but a goal is a goal. We will by the end of the Lodge year have initiated 29 new members, and if some of you who have not paid your dues for this year will reconsider, we will have our first year of not losing more members than we gained, since I can remember. I am proud to have initiated so many wonderful people into our Lodge, and the enthusiasm they have shown by joining into our activities, and their presenting of new candidates for membership.

After 7 years as an officer I think its time to give it a rest and focus on the things I do best, which is making our Lodge look the best around. By the end of the Lodge year we will have new wood blinds on our windows, and new carpeting, to go with the new paint in the Clubroom.

In closing I would like to thank all the officers for their contribution to a great Lodge year, and all the members who have unselfishly given their time and energy to make Royal Oak Lodge #1523 the best it can be. I would also like to invite all of you to come and join me and the officers at the, "In and Out Brunch", on March 21st, so you can also stand and be recognized for your job well done.

Fraternally yours;
David Fett; Exalted Ruler

The History of Bunco.

Bunco dates back to the late 1800's and was played by groups of women, school children, and couples. The old fashioned game of the future is becoming ever more popular at parties, social events, and new groups are popping up across the country.

This progressive dice game, under its original name of 8-Dice Cloth was played in England during the 18th century. It was unknown in the United States until 1855, when it was introduced into San Francisco during the Gold Rush by a crooked gambler. This shady character, traveling from the East to West coast had made many stops in route to the California gold fields. He also made various changes to the gambling game he called Banco. After a few years the game, Banca, and its Mexican derivative, Monte, were also introduced to the population of San Francisco. Bunco Dice and Bunco Cards were combined to form a more efficient method of separating the hard working citizens from their money at numerous gambling locations. These locations were known as Bunco parlors. Hence, the word Bunco came to be a general term that applied to all scams, swindling and confidence games. After the civil war and into the turn of the century, Bunco flourished as the population grew and the economy recovered. Between 1870 & 1880 in virtually every large city on the country, Bunco-Banco games were in operation. Some Bunco locations were furnished elaborately while others resembled professional offices.

During the 1880's and into the mid 1890's, Bunco was played in Texas & Oklahoma, through Kansas & Missouri, in towns and cities along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and from New York to the Great Lake states. Through the Victorian era and prior to WWI, Bunco had achieved permanent placement as a traditional family or parlor game, promoting social interaction. During this period Bunco groups consisting of 8-12 people and as many as 20 people enjoyed an evening of food, drink, conversation, and friendly competition. During prohibition and the roaring 20's, the infamous Bunco gambling parlors resurfaced in various regions of the US the most notorious speak-easies and Bunco dice parlors were located in and around Chicago, Illinois. The term "Bunco Squad" referred to the detectives who raided these establishments!

After prohibition Bunco group activity declined in the major cities of the country, but spread to the suburbs as housing development and the migratory population expanded nationally. Not much was heard about Bunco activity from 1940-1980. (WWII, Korea, Vietnam.) Since the early 1980's Bunco group activity has increased due to a combination of circumstances; a return to traditional family values, a sense of neighborhood & community and, the desire & need for social interaction. Traditionally most Bunco groups consist of 12 players (usually groups of women & occasionally couples.) Kids are even beginning to play at parties & other social events. Playing Bunco is a great way to maintain relationships and make new friends. Bunco is a game of dice, luck, & prizes.

Under the Antlers

Members and Friends

We finally received some snow this winter in the month of February but it did not stop any of you from supporting our activities. The month of March promises to be even more fun filled. As we look forward to spring, St. Patrick's Day comes to mind, and even though most of us are not Irish (like Shawn) we will be having the traditional fare of corned beef and cabbage along with Reuben sandwiches.

Friday night dinners continue this month as fish fries. We have listed the new menu items for April after Easter on the calendar page along with the price of each dinner. I hope you find this addition to the calendar a helpful one. Why don't you invite a friend or neighbor with you to sample our dinner items and maybe talk some about becoming a member.

Sunday, March 21 we will be having a special day for our Lodge. This will be the date of the Installation Brunch held for our new officers of the Lodge and of the Wapiti. This will also be the time to thank our ER, Dave Fette for a job well done as our Exalted Ruler. Dave will also be awarding our annual awards for Elk of the Year, Officer of the Year, Sweetheart of Elkdom, and Citizen of the Year. Cost of the brunch will be $10.00.

Easter arrives the first Sunday in April so I am putting a word in early for the Easter Egg Hunt that will take place on Saturday April 3. I hope the weather will cooperate as it did last year so that all the children will have a wonderful time.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for reading the "Under the Antlers" column. I hope you have found it informative. Furthermore, thanks to all Lodge members for supporting my candidacy for Exalted Ruler. I hope that your continued support will strengthen our lodge to have another successful year of Elkdom.

Fraternally yours
Bill Dyda, Esteemed Leading Knight

Wonders of the Wapiti

As I write my last words as 2009-2010 President of the Wapiti, I reflect on all the wonderful experiences I have encountered throughout the year. I truly thank each member who stood behind me. The smiles, the hugs, the conversations, the simple reminders of my article deadline, the helping words of encouragement when I have that "senior moment" with my meeting agenda, the laughs, and the great feelings when our goals are achieved.

I am truly proud to have been President of the Wapiti. You ladies are just toooooo wonderful.

A quote: "As I walk through life, I've learned that the most wasted day is one in which we have not smiled."

With a Smile and Respectfully Yours,
Kathy Vereecke
Wapiti President
